Opening Doors with Christ, One Another and Our Neighbors

From Pastor Denny...

“Words Matter”

*“Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be pleasing to you,
Lord, my rock and my redeemer.” (Psalm 19:14)*

Rev. Dr. Gerald Kauffman was pastor of my home church in Carlisle for 32 years. His ministry there began just six months before I was born. He baptized me, confirmed me, and joined the bishop in laying hands on me when I was ordained. Dr. Kauffman was a big influence in helping me to come to faith in Christ and to discern a call to pastoral ministry. As a young pastor, I was so blessed to have him nearby for support and wise counsel.

One of Dr. Kauffman's most important influences on me was his preaching. He communicated God's Word with such clarity and enthusiasm every Sunday. During my childhood and youth his well-chosen Sunday morning words played a big role in shaping my life as a disciple of Jesus and as a preacher.

Often, before Dr. Kauffman began his sermons, he would pray this prayer from Psalm 19:14, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in your sight, O Lord, our rock and our redeemer." I have used this same prayer from time to time before sermons. It expresses the yearning of my heart as a preacher: that my words would honor the Lord, as would the thoughts of the whole congregation. Using this prayer also reminds me that my effectiveness as a preacher does not depend on me, on my insight or skill, but upon the Lord, who is "my rock and my redeemer."

Psalm 19:14 is a fine prayer for the pulpit, but this prayer belongs not just in the pulpit, but also in the world. For one thing, the identified poet of Psalm 19, David, was not a priest or a prophet. He didn't do "religious work" in the usual sense. Rather, he was a shepherd, a warrior, a musician, a poet, and most famously, a king. David did, if you'll pardon the expression, secular work. Nevertheless, he sought to please the Lord with his words and thoughts, not just in his private prayers, but in every sector of life.

You and I are privileged to live for God's glory in all that we do, in every word, every thought, and every deed. This means we ought to borrow David's prayer, not just if we happen to be preaching a sermon, but all the time. This prayer reminds us that words matter. Words have power to heal, to inspire, and to unite us. They also have power to harm, to discourage, and to divide us.

How would your life be different if you began praying Psalm 19:14 in the day-to-day situations of your life? What difference might it make if, before you participate in a meeting, you prayed, "May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing to you, O LORD, my rock and my redeemer"? How might praying this way transform your language and actions on the athletic field, when you're out on the town with your friends, when you're writing a letter to a client, or when you're negotiating a contract? How might it affect the way you speak to your spouse, your children, your roommate, or your colleagues?

I invite you to make Psalm 19:14 your prayer, so that whether in worship or in day to day living, the words of your mouth and the meditations of your heart will please God and bless others.

Joining with you in all that is good!

Pastor Denny

From the Library

For many years when I would write the September newsletter, I would write about the bittersweet time of back to school and the end of summer. But since so many children go back to school in the middle of August—well back to school is old news now. If you are like me, I loved August as a kid because it was still vacation, and my grandmother was at our house a lot as she, my mom, and all of us kids canned and froze the bounty from our garden and the orchard. Oh, the good old days—better move on to September and books before I get maudlin.

If you like mysteries, you are probably familiar with author Robin Carroll. She has a new trilogy called the Darkwater Inn series set in the French Quarter of New Orleans. All three books are brimming with the ambiance of French sounding names, Mardi Gras, and mayhem and murder at its best. Darkwater Secrets finds hotel manager Adelaide Fountain with a murdered guest in her Bourbon Street hotel. Longtime friend and detective Beau Savoie begins to investigate with the hope that the distraught Adelaide will turn to him in her time of distress as he has been her secret admirer for years. But she seems more comfortable with her co-worker Chef Dimitri. Worse yet she seems to have hidden the fact that she knew the murdered guest. However Beau can't push too hard as he is keeping secrets himself. But can they really suppress the truth when there is a killer on the loose?

Darkwater Lies finds Adelaide just back from a long rest in Europe and ready to resume her job during Mardi Gras. Before her suitcases are put away, there is a jewel heist in the hotel and Detective Beau is back on the scene. He promptly discovers that it had to be an inside job, and his competition, Chef Dimitri, is a suspect. If that wasn't enough of a problem, Adelaide is kidnapped, and Beau and Dimitri have to put their distrust of each other aside to save her.

Darkwater Truth finds a recovered Adelaide starting a remodeling project on the inn. Behind one wall is a skeleton with an axe at its feet. If the problems the Darkwater Inn has faced recently have not been enough, now the past evils of the inn are snaking their way into the present. I won't give the plot away, but reviewers have said there are more twists, turns and tension in this series to keep you glued to the page until you discover the conclusion. Another plus is all three books are on the shelf, so there will not be a wait for the next book.

On a milder note, Beverly Lewis's sequel to The Tinderbox will be available mid-September. The Timepiece still finds the Miller house in an uproar. If you haven't read the The Tinderbox yet, I won't tell more than that Sylvia Miller stumbled on a family secret that sent this quiet and loving Amish house into a tailspin. Sylvia is trying to rebuild her trust in family members and evaluate her engagement to Titus. Most of all Sylvia is wondering if God can make something good come out of past mistakes. I will let you find that answer!

Since I am writing this on the last day of July and our book sale hasn't happened yet, I am going to take the leap of faith and thank all of you for the support you have given our sale with not only donations, but also purchases. Due to the success of the books sale over the last few years, we have become self supporting. Your support allows us to offer the best Christian books at your fingertips. Rarely is there any waiting for new books and a helpful volunteer is available to show you our wide variety. If you have not been in the library, you are missing a treasure trove of good reading.

See you in the library!!!

Praying Follower

Moms in Prayer

Did you know that, through Moms in Prayer International, thousands of mothers around the world gather together in groups to passionately pray for the lives of their children in more than 140 countries? The impact on children, their teachers and their schools is profound, and it is life-changing for the mothers who pray as well!

In addition to groups meeting in homes to pray for specific schools, and the children and teachers who attend those schools, there is an “open group” that meets here at First Church. This group, led by Deb Noss, has resumed meeting for the 2019/20 school year on Monday evenings from 7:00 – 8:00 pm in the Prayer Room (2nd floor elevator landing).

All mothers are invited and no prayer experience is required. Your child can be any age/any stage of life. And what is prayed in the group stays in the group, so don't worry – your prayer requests will remain private.

Please contact Deb Noss at sdppp@msn.com or Tina Eaton at adultministry@fumchurch.com or call 766-4611 if you have questions or would like to join this group. You can also check out momsinprayer.org if you would like more information about this organization or would like to search for another group that fits your schedule.

The summer has just flown by, hasn't it? We had a great time in Lancaster at the Area 2 Handbell Festival the end of June. It was so nice to see many of you from First Church in the audience! So everyone knows – Area 2 is returning to Lancaster the end of June, 2021. Mark your calendars now for the concert which will be the last Sunday in June!

We are ready to begin another year of ringing and are hoping to see a few new faces in the bell choirs this year! You're always welcome to join us – just give Kathie a call! We rehearse on Monday nights right now.

Mark your calendars now for our 18th annual Chicken BBQ – Saturday, October 12. Tickets will be available very soon!

“Therefore, I urge you, brothers and sisters, in view of God’s mercy, to offer your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God—this is your true and proper worship.”
Romans 12:1

With many of our music groups starting back up again, it's important to remember both 'why' and 'how' we worship. Sometimes we go to church, but we don't quite worship. We'll sing the familiar hymns and songs, but we may not always put our focus on God. We'll listen to the sermons, or partake in prayer, but we may not let go of our own opinions or worries. True worship is celebrating God, and drawing closer to Him. God created us perfect in His own design, using all of our gifts He has bestowed upon us— we were made for worship.

While our current music ministries are ramping up for another joyful season, I invite you to join me in prayer with how God is calling you to use your creative gifts and talents in music, media, design, drama, dance, and all elements of creativity. All are welcome!

Change for Water ~ Located at the Sierra Leone Display in the Tower Hallway

Every penny helps so keep dropping your loose change into the Change for Water Bucket. One hundred percent (100%) of your donations are used to provide training and dig wells that supply safe drinking water for schools and communities in Sierra Leone. You can even throw in “paper” change ~ they’re the best!!

Missions in Sierra Leone

Our March 2020 mission trip will be here before we know it but it’s not too late for you to join us. Unlike other trips where relationship building was our main focus, this trip we will be working alongside the people of Taiama to paint the exterior of the church. If you’ve ever seen pictures of the church, you know it’s a sizable structure so all the help we can get is needed and welcomed.

Sierra Leone is once again experiencing overwhelming amounts of rainfall during this time of the year, causing flooding and erosion not just of the land but also of the structures. During a past trip, we saw firsthand the results of the rainy season on the buildings when we visited a church that no longer had a back wall. This is just one reason why painting the church is necessary. Please prayerfully consider being part of the 2020 team. You can contact Tiffany Holland, Sarah Jones or Kristin Brown if you have any questions or would like more information about the trip.

Even if you are not able to be part of the team going to Sierra Leone, you are still part of the mission in Sierra Leone and your help is needed. First, and foremost, we need your continued prayer as we plan and prepare for the trip and while we are on the trip. Second, we are raising funds for the trip through various fundraisers. We are selling t-shirts that you can wear to show your support or you can buy one for the team to take to someone in Taiama. Also, proceeds from specific gift cards purchased through the Scrip program in September, October and November will go to benefit the 2020 mission trip. Check the Missions in Sierra Leone display in the tower hallway for more information. Thank you for your continued support.

We are always in need of people to cut fabric, sew (hand or machine), tie knots, or simply to enjoy the fellowship of the group! In the meantime, Quilt Kits are located near the door to the multi-purpose room for anyone who desires to complete a kit at home.

What a wonderful opportunity to include those who are new. Again in September, FUMC will host the Food Trucks on 9/20. Come and enjoy the crisp air of fall. Thank you...

While recovering from my recent fall, I was pleased to be remembered by my First Church family. Thank you for your thoughts and prayers, flowers, cards, and meals. I enjoyed visits from Pastor John and Janice Bowen for my communion. Many thanks to all.

~ Blessings, Pat Hutter

We want to thank our church family for their thoughts and prayers for our daughter, Steph, while she was in the hospital. Thanks also to Pastor Denny and Betsy for the visits and the gift of a quilt. Janice Bowen, your love and caring is very much appreciated.

~ Roy and Ginnie Miller

I just wanted to say thank you to everyone for making me feel so welcome as I begin my ministry as Office Manager here at First United Methodist Church. My transition has gone very well, thanks to the care and kindness of so many wonderful people. I look forward to getting to know everyone better as we all serve together!
